The Art of Emergency Care

The first public exhibition of the National EMS Museum featuring art from the Museum's vault.

Touring: April 2019 through 2024

First Aid in the Home 1900 to 1967

Emergency care and preparation starts at home. This section features early illustrations offering helpful advice on caring for the injured. 3-8 pieces

Eye Catching Adverts for the Professional Medic 1920-1980

Product art offers an insightful look into the use of medical equipment of an era. Pieces featured will give a glimpse into a Medic's daily life. 3-5 pieces

EMS Characters 1930s to 2010s

The life of a Medic can be humorous at times, providing great inspiration for satire. The Museum's collection of pieces depicting EMS professionals gives a light-hearted look into the field. 4- 6 pieces

Responder Art 1990s to 2020s

The life of a Medic can be humorous at times and traumatic at others. This section explores the role art has in healing and inspiring. 8-10 pieces

About Us

Founded in 2006, the National EMS Museum holds a national collection of Emergency Medical Services art, artifacts and archival materials. Collections can be explored through the virtual museum, emsmuseum.org

The National EMS Museum's mission is to

- » Preserve the history and innovation of EMS
- » Share stories and industry changing inventions with the public
- » Foster an appreciation for EMS and inspire a future generation of Emergency Medicine practitioners

Exhibition Schedule

The Art of Emergency Care will consist of up to 15 artworks that will travel to at least three locations over the next two years. Providing a unique opportunity for the general public to engage with our collections. This “out of the vault” experience will allow members, donors and others to share their passion for the emergency services with their neighbors.

Launched in April 2019.
