FEATURES

- 42 Life on a Limb (CEU Article) BY ERNESTO ALVERO, PA-C. Although most literature on orthopedic injuries concentrates on the lower extremities, most people earn their living with their hands. Upper extremity injuries must be taken seriously.

- 62 Pumpin' BY DOUGLAS AUSTIN, JR., EMT-P AND JUDITH REID GRAVES, RN. Does it matter whether an EMT uses a bag-valve mask or a pocket-face mask? Only when the EMT knows his abilities and limitations with airway skills.
- 66 A Course on Training BY RICHARD A CHERRY, NREMT-P. An inability to prove adequate preparation through training and continuing education could be a costly oversight.
- 70 Febrile Seizures BY JACK P. CAMPBELL, MD AND JACK S. SURPURE, MD. This common neurological disorder in children can be life-threatening, and must be effectively managed in the field.
