CONTENTS

APRIL 1986 VOL. 11 NO. 4

Features

- 26 The CPR Mandate BY MARY NEWMAN. A jems survey investigates attitudes toward CPR training in our nation's schools.
- 34 Viral Infections: Bringing Risks Into Perspective BY LOREN MARSHALL AND ALICE (TWINK) GORGEN. New data, and balanced examination of older information, suggest a reconsideration of viral infection risks.
- 45 AIDS and EMTs: Sorting the Facts BY AMEEN I. RAMZY, MD, ELIZABETH ALLEN, MD AND ELLIS CAPLAN, MD. AIDS is a serious disease which is transmitted sexually or by a blood-borne route. Every EMS provider should have information based on facts. The fear of AIDS may be a greater threat to this society than the disease itself.
- 48 The AIDS Issue: The Supervisor's Responsibility BY KATHERINE WEST, RN. In some important ways the supervisor is responsible for assuring the safety of subordinates, as well as for safeguarding the rights of the clients served. These responsibilities can be met by educating personnel and by instituting protocols which ensure the care provider's protection.
- 50 Stopping Elderly Abuse BY JAY FITCH. There has been a great deal of interest in the past few years in child abuse, its causes and how to stop it. There has not been a corresponding interest, however, in the surprisingly high incidence of abuse and neglect of the elderly. This phenomenon is as equally devastating to the elderly victim as to the child, but has often been more subtle and harder to detect.
