FEATURES

- 26 Hypotension in the Field BY CHRISTOPHER WHITE, MD. An unusual case study of hypotension in the field introduces a pilot program for continuing education units (CEUs).
- 32 Quality Assurance BY THOM DICK. Average is no longer good enough. A good quality assurance program can make patient care even better.
- 37 Spreading the Wealth BY GERALD A. CANNON. A theoretical rotation scheme may help to minimize personnel burnout.
- 40 Safe Transport of the Psychiatric Patient BY JOSEPH P. BUTLER. A discussion of common sense and tactical thinking that can complement verbal skills and significantly reduce personal risk when transporting the psychiatric patient is presented.
- 44 Cardiology Practicum: After the Fall BY MIKE TAIGMAN AND SYD CANAN. An advanced approach to EKG interpretation can be rewarding to both the EMT and the patient.
- 48 The Violated Victim BY SUSAN CLARK. This article discusses who crime victims are and what they feel, society's treatment and reaction to them, and what prehospital providers can do to help the victimized.
- 52 More Harm Than Good BY STEVE BLACKSTONE AND LYNN SMITH. An NTSB study on the performance of lap belts in frontal crashes concluded that persons using lap-only belts may sustain injuries induced by the lap belt itself.

Do You Believe in Magic?

Jim Page, the publisher of JEMS, is one of the most popular writers and speakers in EMS today. His new book is "The MAGIC of 3 A.M.," a brilliant collection of many of his best essays and speeches. In his classic story-telling style, Jim takes the complex issues that face every EMT, paramedic and administrator and boils them down to their essence. His book—entertaining, informative, and heart-felt—is dedicated to "those who give countless hours to training and preparation, who forsake opportunities for wealth, who disregard their own convenience and safety in caring for ill and injured people—quite often at the magical hour of 3 A.M."

■ DELUXE HARDBACK LIMITED EDITION ■

Each book is personally autographed by Jim Page. The cover is richly textured burgundy with foil-stamped lettering in gold tones. It makes a handsome addition to your library, or a beautiful gift for someone special.
